It stayed off for about 1 day after reset and is now back on. My question is: are there are any "known" issues with this code relating to this specific model/year vehicle(2001 Suburban 5.3L 1500 4X4)? I was hoping for the best & replaced the fuel cap but the light came back on..... Any help concerning this would be much appreciated. Thanks,-John

This is a high quality part made of strong rubber that doesn't tear easily. It fits my 2007 Suburban perfectly. However, it took a while to get this on. If you think this will be an easy seal replacement, it won't. You get a sense for how tightly that seal is on the sunroof when you remove the old seal (and there was no adhesive).
