Corinthians 5:17, "If anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new."
Faith without works is dead because it comes from a heart that has not been regenerated by God. Empty professions of faith have no power to change lives.

Why is faith without works dead? | GotQuestions.org
Works do not justify us or make us righteous before God, nor are they the means to salvation. Rather, our deeds are the fruit that grows from one who is obedient to God's commands and transformed by His

Daily Devotion: James 1-5: Faith Without Works is Dead
James is examining two kinds of faith: one that leads to godly works and one that does not. One is true, and the other is false. One is dead, the other alive; hence, "Faith without works is dead." (James 2:20). This is why in the middle of his section on faith and works, he says in verse 19, "You believe that God is one.
