Foodborne illness usually arises from improper handling, preparation, or food storage. Good hygiene practices before, during, and after food preparation can reduce the chances of contracting an illness. There is a consensus in the public health community that regular hand-washing is one of the best defenses against the spread of foodborne illness.

Remote sensing technology is becoming mainstream for mapping the growing stem volume (GSV) and overcoming the shortage of traditional ground-based approaches. Naturally, the GSV estimation accuracy utilizing remote sensing imagery is highly related to the variable selection and algorithm used. Thus, to reduce the uncertainty caused by variables and models, this paper proposes a combined ...
