The simple answer is: yes, it is possible to invest in real estate if you don't have any money at all. However, money is involved in every real estate transaction. The issue, therefore, is not whether you're investing with "no money," but instead whether you 're investing with "none of your own money."

Real estate is a visceral category of investment if there ever was one. For that reason, images that are not identified as Figure X are scattered throughout this chapter to remind us of the emotional side of the real estate investment. After all, it is the hearth as much as the yield that gives a home a special
