Photovoltaic system - Wikipedia

Solar power is the conversion of energy from sunlight into electricity, either directly using photovoltaics (PV), indirectly using concentrated solar power, or a combination. Concentrated solar power systems use lenses or mirrors and solar tracking systems to focus a large area of sunlight into a small beam. Photovoltaic cells convert light into an electric current using the photovoltaic effect.

Tracking array frames follow the sun ' s path across the sky throughout the day and year. Frames can track on a single or a dual axis. They are controlled either by an electric motor or a compressed gas fluid in the frame that uses the heat of the sun to move the gas around the tracker ' s frame as it follows the sun.

Automatic Sun Tracking Solar Electric

Development of solar panel tracking systems has been ongoing for several years now. As the sun moves across the sky during the day, it is advantageous to have the solar panels track the location of the sun, such that the panels are always perpendicular to the solar energy radiated by the sun. This will tend to maximize the amount of power ...
