The easiest Beetles to turn into baja bugs are 1967s and 1968s. That is because they came with 12 volt electrical systems and swing arm rear suspensions. Prior to 1967 Beetles came with 6 volt electrical systems which inhibit performance. After 1968 they came with independent rear suspensions that don't easily accept the large tires required for off road and sand use. Do not use with a Beetle with an automatic stick shift.*
