Behavior of Gases continued What Are the Gas Laws? The temperature, pressure, and volume of a gas are linked to each other. When one of these changes, the other two change. The gas laws describe how the temperature, pressure, and volume of a gas are related to each other. 1. BOYLE'S LAW Boyle's law says that the volume of a gas is inversely

The Behavior of Gases A. Understanding Gas Behavior 1. Temperature, pressure, and changes affect gases more than they do solids and . 2. The theory is an explanation of how particles behave in matter. a. One idea of this theory is that all matter is made of particles. b.

Chapter 3 Section 3 The Behavior of Gases - Quizlet

When the temperature of a sample of steam increases from 100°C to 200°C, the average kinetic energy of its particles doubles. This section explains the relationships among the volume, pressure, and temperature of gases as described by Boyle's law, Charles's law, Gay-Lussac's law, and the combined gas law.
