Their contribution to the Mennonite church is unique. The chapter is filled with insight and humor. Present Mennonite Brethren churches in North Carolina—begun by the Krimmer Mennonite Brethren in 1886—make up the oldest black Mennonite conference in history. Thirteen other Mennonite-related groups pioneered among blacks between 1898 and 1950.

North Baltimore Mennonite - Home

The Matins worship at Waterloo North Mennonite Church is an adaptation of the ancient tradition of liturgical worship that our Anabaptist forbears turned away from in the fifteenth century. In the face of ecclesiastical abuses of the time the Anabaptists sought a renewed spiritual relationship with God and a life truly aligned with the example and teaching of Jesus in the New Testament.
