Changing Places - Wikipedia

David Lodge's Changing Places is a comic campus novel about two academics engaged in an exchange scheme for half a year - one hails from the West Coast of the U.S., and the other from an grim, industrial British city. That game the novel plays at is the extreme exacerbation of what Russell Hoban once called "the 2ness of it all".

Changing Places by David Lodge, Paperback | Barnes & Noble®

David Lodge, I suspect, had fun writing his 1975 novel Changing Places.. It's a playful novel of two English professors – Morris Zapp from the prestigious West Coast school, Euphoric State (think the University of California at Berkeley), and Philip Swallow from the second-tier British school in a blue-collar city, the University of Rummidge (think of the University of Birmingham) – who ...
