Convolutional Sequence to Sequence Learning inputs. Non-linearities allow the networks to exploit the full input, or to focus on fewer elements if needed. Each convolution kernel is parameterized as  $W_{2R \times 2d}$ ,  $b_{w \times 2R \times 2d}$  and takes as input  $X_{2R \times d}$  which is a concatenation of  $k$  input elements embedded in  $d$  dimensions.

Sequence to Sequence Learning. sequence of words representing the answer. It is therefore clear that a domain-independent method that learns to map sequences to sequences would be useful. Sequences pose a challenge for DNNs because they require that the dimensionality of the inputs and outputs is known and fixed.
