Leopard frogs make for excellent starter pets for children as well. They can continue to take care of their pet frogs after the growing period is over. Your leopard frogs can live up to 5 years if you continue to carefully tend to their needs. After some time, move the adult frogs to a 5-gallon or 10-gallon terrarium.

The large presence of frogs is mainly due to the agriculture typical of these areas which have always been known for their famous rice. The large cultivation of rice means that there is large presence of artificial water channels used to flood rice fields during growing season, which makes a perfect habitat for frogs.
