The Human Condition Quotes by Hannah Arendt
Arendt ' s Ontology of The Human Condition, I explicate the Heideggerian origins of these theses but also how Arendt radically transforms them. This transformation of Heidegger ' s concept of Mitsein, into one of “ being-with-others-in- deed- and-words ” has radical consequences for the evolution of the Critical Theory of Jürgen Habermas.

The Human Condition - Wikipedia

The Human Condition is a work by Hannah Arendt published in 1958. Hannah Arendt studies the vita activa for itself, regardless of the vita contemplativa: this leads to re-establish the hierarchy among the various activities of the vita activa, and more specifically to reaffirm the priority of the action on the work. This statement of the role of the action aims to give men the desire to leave ...
