Language Handbook 8 Sentence Structure

Introduction. Sentence repetition tasks have been used for decades as a tool for investigating language skills (e.g. McDade, Simpson & Lamb, 1982, Rodd & Braine, 1971; Schwartz & Daly, 1978) and are widely recognized as useful measures of individual differences in language ability and as a means for identifying children with language impairments (Vinther, 2002).

Sentence repetition is a measure of children's language skills rather ...

An incomplete sentence, or sentence fragment, is a set of words that does not form a complete sentence, either because it does not express a complete thought or because it lacks some grammatical element, such as a subject or a verb. A dependent clause without an independent clause is an example of an incomplete sentence.. An -ing fragment is a type of incomplete sentence containing a word ...
