Hancock's new book, Magicians of the Gods (2015), is a direct sequel to Fingerprints, and a stepsibling to its earlier sequels, such as Heaven's Mirror (1998) and Underworld (2002). The volume continues Hancock's quest to find a lost civilization of high technology that he believes vanished during the Ice Age and was remembered only in a universal myth of the Great Flood.

Magicians of the Gods is 440 pages (not including Appendices) and also has excellent photos, maps and illustrations which I referred to frequently. There has been some talk about his foray into fiction, or accusations of his research being 'fiction'; however, this ability to straddle both literary streams is an example of the highest sort of creativity and intelligence.
