Kinematic equations relate the variables of motion to one another. Each equation contains four variables. The variables include acceleration (a), time (t), displacement (d), final velocity (v_f), and initial velocity (v_i). If values of three variables are known, then the others can be calculated using the equations. This page demonstrates the process with 20 sample problems and accompanying ...

What are Forces in Physics? A force describes, quantitatively, the interaction between two objects. A force is a vector quantity: it has a magnitude and a direction. You need to exert a force to pull a box on the floor. You use force to push a table. The weight of an object is the force of attraction that the earth exerts on this object.
