Neocolonialism is the practice of using economics, globalisation, cultural imperialism, and conditional aid to influence a country instead of the previous colonial methods of direct military control (imperialism) or indirect political control (). Neocolonialism differs from standard globalisation and development aid in that it typically results in a relationship of dependence, subservience ...

Neo Colonialism a Background Book by Brian Crozier - AbeBooks
Neo-Colonialism is a sharp account by former Ghanaian president Kwame Nkrumah of the ways in which imperialism is taken over by a new form of exploitation. By taking the labor power and resources from a colonized state in order to benefit a wealthier colonizer, this new form of exploitation does not necessarily need military dominance in order to be sustained.
