With the 28/36 rule, you'll want your PITI number to be less than 28% of your gross monthly income. Use this formula to find out exactly how much house you can afford. For example, if your gross monthly income amounts to $4,000 / month, the best mortgage you're likely to attain would amount to no more than $1,120 / month since that's 28% of your income.
