In the pull workout, you train all of your upper body pulling muscles. So. your back, biceps, and rear delts. And finally, in the legs workout, you train your entire lower body. That's your quads, hamstrings, and calves. These workouts are then typically performed for a total of 6 days per week with a rest day in between every 3 consecutive days.

Sample Interval Training Workouts - 09/2020

I don't know Builtlean, but I just downloaded their free e-book that includes a sample workout. It's very simple: three supersets done 1-4 times each, 12-16 reps per movement (squats-lunges, dumbbell bench press-dumbbell row, and dumbbell seated press-crunches). Seems very basic, introductory-level program.
