Just checked Chris and I can't see the line but I'm fairly sure that is the line that the bar should be set against. If in doubt you need to measure a m2 and check the amount that comes out, so for example it's 35mg per m2 you should check that is the amount coming out but I'm sure if you set the setting to 6 and adjust it will be fine.

This spreader does everything you'd expect from a drop spreader. The spreader covers a 42cm strip on each pass. By following the line left by the wheels on the previous pass it's pretty easy to avoid missing areas or double-dosing. I'm not using a Scotts fertiliser but I was fairly easy to measure the drop rate when using a different product.
