More precisely, we consider the flexible job shop scheduling problem with sequence-dependent setup times (FJSP-SDST) to minimize the makespan. Sequence dependency indicates that the magnitude of setup times is determined by the current job as well as the direct previous job processed on the same machine.

Abstract: Job-shop scheduling problem (JSP) is one of extremely hard problems because it requires very large combinatorial search space and the precedence constraint between machines. The traditional algorithm used to solve the problem is the branch-and-bound method, which takes considerable computing time when the size of problem is large.

Using Tabu Search to Solve the Job Shop Scheduling Problem ...

The job-shop scheduling problem can now be defined as the problem of finding the ordered sequence of operations which leads to the minimum makespan, that is, the job-shop shop scheduling problem can be seen simply as a sequencing problem involving all the operations that have to be performed.
