Atelier Bow-Wow is a Tokyo-based firm founded in 1992 by Kajjima and Tsukamoto. Based on the concept of "architectural behaviorology," the practice investigates the behavior of environmental elements— air, light, heat, wind, and water—as well as that of humans and buildings in order to optimize their performance.

Atelier Bow-Wow

Atelier Bow-Wow investigates the living condition of people through various fieldwork and design practices. They observe architecture and its environments from a behavioralogical point of view and always invent unique visual representations specific to the subject and scope at hand, like the book Graphic Anatomy (Toto, 2007). Their interests range broadly from the relationship between house typologies and urban fabric to the relationship between public space and unlocked common resources.
