They've replaced the standard miter box and backsaw in most shops. Beginners find that powered miter saws make far more accurate cuts for miters, bevels and compound angles.

They're easily set at standard angles like $22\frac{1}{2}$, 45 and 90 degrees, but they can be adjusted for every angle in between. That includes left and right cuts.

A good circular saw is essential if you don ' t have a table saw and plan on working with sheet materials like plywood or MDF.

Additionally, a cheaper table saw might not have enough capacity to rip large sheets, and this is when a circular saw may come in handy.

For those with a higher budget, you might consider opting for a track saw.
